1.0 Objective

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-130, Appendix III, Security of Federal Automated Information Resources requires that "Rules of Behavior" be established for each general support information technology (IT) system and major application processing government information. At the National Telecommunication and Information Administration (NTIA), these Rules of Behavior establish the principles for the use of National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) and Department of Commerce (DOC) information technology (IT) resources. The purpose of these rules is to increase individual awareness and responsibility and to ensure that all users utilize IT resources in an efficient, ethical, and lawful manner.

The Rules of Behavior are standards set to hold users accountable for security-relevant actions. They should be disseminated through the organization's training and awareness program. All users are required to sign and date that they have read and understand the Rules Of Behavior for EL-CID Online ("ECO Rules of Behavior").

2.0 Responsibilities

- 1. The user has to sign the System Authorization Access Request (SAAR) form to get an account and right to access the EL-CID Online internal system.
- 2. The user ID and password are only to be used by the individual who is assigned, and should not divulge to any unauthorized user. Any group ID or group password is prohibited. The EL-CID Red Online Classified users will manage the password in accordance with the DOC Policy on Password Management and the password management policy contained within NTIA's IT Security Policy.
- 3. When the user uses the National Telecommunication and Information Administration resources, the user consents for monitoring and security testing to ensure proper security and appropriate usage.
- 4. The EL-CID Online user is responsible to report any suspect incidents (viruses, unauthorized access, theft, inappropriate use, etc.) to NTIA staff.
- 5. Tampering with another user's account, files, data or processes without the other user's express permission, use of the system resources for personal purposes, or unauthorized activities is strictly prohibited and will result in termination of access privileges.
- 6. EL-CID Online users are responsible for protecting and maintaining, to the best of their ability, any information used or stored in their accounts. They should not attempt to access any data or programs contained on systems for which they are not authorized or do not have explicit consent of the data/program owner.
- 7. When a user no longer requires access to NTIA resources, they should notify their immediate supervisor, and make no further attempt to access these resources.
- 8. Failure to adhere to these rules or subvert these rules may constitute grounds for termination of access privileges, administrative action, and/or civil or criminal prosecution.
